Dear Elias,

Jill Martin has asked me to come over for a coffee, and I accepted for this Friday at 9:30AM. During the call, I asked if she would want you to come along as well, and (interestingly) she said that she has had numerous conversations with you and wanted to talk to me. It might be divide and conquer, it might be trying to seduce our homeowners association, it might be about the cliff trail, or it might be something else (great coffee?). In any event I will keep my wits about me during the meeting. If you want me to deliver any message(s) I am happy to do so.

Thank you for your continuing concern for the quality of our City,
Kel

Hi Kelvin,
It was good to see you last night. In anticipation of the next City Council meeting at which the street entrance into the new development will be discussed, I was hoping I could meet with you briefly to better understand your concerns and your position. If you are interested in a short meeting, I'd be happy to host you for coffee at the Club some morning in the next couple weeks. Please just let me know a time that works for you.

Best regards,

Jill A. Martin
